- MVP (Minimum Viable Product) and Iterative Development:

Our MVP is defined by the completed user story map, created in 'Stories On Board'. This represents the essential functionality for initial release. Following its completion, we will conduct an evaluation to determine if further iterations are required to incorporate additional information and pages. The WordPress development is nearly complete.

- The WordPress site is considered superior to the Figma design.
- The WordPress design aligns with the PDF for colors, logos, and fonts.
- The team will focus on ensuring everything is correct in format.
- The team aims to gather feedback from clients and the professor for educational purposes.

- WordPress Technical Issues
(Inaccessible)

Adam has resolved the server issue.

- Issues include:

- Error messages ("currently unavailable," "error 404").
- Possible plugin failure.
- Possible server issues.

- Troubleshooting steps:

- Attempted access from different Wi-Fi networks and locations.
- Adam has been contacted.

Concern about potential data loss.

Homepage and Subpages Feedback

- The homepage has three subpages:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>◦ Funding and Grants</li><li>◦ Find Volunteers</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>◦ Legal and Compliance</li><li>◦ Marketing and Events</li></ul>

Page (Includes their sub-pages)	Volunteers	Funding and Grants	Legal and Compliance	Marketing and Events
Feedback:  Initial concern that it resembled a dashboard.  Suggestions to clarify wording (e.g., "Resources on managing volunteers" instead of "manage volunteers").  The term "volunteers" in navigation may be ambiguous.  The homepage includes a menu and sub-menu with photos, titles, and descriptions for each section.  Hovering over text in the Figma design provides descriptions.  Titles should be intuitive, even if supporting descriptions are present.	Initial concern that it resembled a dashboard.
